BRITAIN'S LOUDEST SNORERS

NEW

Format also available

1 x 60' or 1 x 90'

Producer: Firecracker Films

Commissioning Channel: Channel 5

A staggering 90% of people in the UK live with a snoring partner. Now TV's favourite Doctor, Christian Jessen is going to help find a cure!

Whilst some snorers barely reach 70 decibels (the level of a vacuum cleaner), there's a growing number who are hitting the heady heights of 100 decibels plus – we're talking snores that are louder than a pneumatic drill or equivalent to a low flying jet plane.

In fact, snoring is one of the leading causes of relationship problems.

For this new special, thousands of snorers across the UK were nominated by their partners; and we've narrowed it down to five of the loudest and most disruptive snorer's in the country. They are brought to a tailor-made snore camp to spend the night and be analysed by experts including Dr Christian.

Packed with fascinating practical tips on how to get a good night's sleep, the show also delves into the lives of the snorers, and the suffering partners, with plenty of fun along the way.

THE GREAT BRITISH URINE TEST

NEW

Format also available

1 x 90'

Producer: Firecracker Films

Commissioning Channel: Channel 5

Every day, we flush away over 100 million litres of urine. But did you know that your pee could be the key to keeping you healthy? And that it could be an early warning system for chronic illness?

In this 90 minute special, Dr Christian Jessen and Dr Amir Khan team up to test the nation's health by testing their urine, and the results are extraordinary.

Using ground-breaking science, the humble urine sample acts as a lie detector to reveal exactly what people have been eating, how much they've been drinking and even the levels of pollution they're absorbing. Dr Christian and Dr Amir provide intervention programmes to try to improve the health of the those with the most alarming results.

Whilst across the UK, the 'pee pod' results give the big picture on which city does the most drugs, has the healthiest (and unhealthiest) diet and which city drinks the most booze. With unique stunts testing myths and curious uses for urine along the way, this is the biggest urine test the UK has ever seen.

MUMS MAKE PORN

Format also available

3 x 60'

Producer: Firecracker Films

Commissioning Channel: Channel 4

Mischief with a purpose! This provocative series does exactly that. A group of five charismatic mothers with teenage children are given the tools to create their very own porn film, and showcase their version of happy, healthy sex.

Porn used to be hidden away on the top shelf, but now it's all over the internet, and on children's tablets and smartphones. 80% of teenagers say they have seen porn online, often accidentally. Worryingly, researchers have found that most porn includes scenes of physical aggression, mostly towards women.

Understandably, mums (and dads) are worried about the impact this easily accessible pornography is having on their teenage children, especially with some of it promoting unrealistic and often damaging views about sex. But what is the solution? If parents can't prevent their kids from seeing this material, can they help produce the content and represent sex in a better way?

In this three part series for Channel 4, a group of five ordinary mums of teenage children research and explore the world of modern pornography. They then produce their very own porn film with the help of industry experts. The mums write, cast, direct and edit the film, building to a final screening for an invited audience.

Their mission is to create a film which not only works as pornography but one that creates a debate and promotes healthy attitudes towards sex and relationships for the next generation.

#TRUMP: HOW SOCIAL MEDIA CHANGED THE PRESIDENCY

NEW

1 x 60'

Producer: Pioneer Productions

In the 1930s, FDR used a new medium called radio to talk to the American people. For JFK it was television. For Donald J. Trump, the new medium is Twitter. Even Trump admits he wouldn't have won the election without it.

Now, ten years since his first tweet, this fast-paced one-hour special uses evocative archive and a cast of charismatic political experts, social media commentators and fun on-screen infographics to unpick how, in just 140 characters, Twitter has changed the way political communication takes place in the US. It's the story of a social medium platform and the first social media president, as we see how both Twitter and Trump have grown their brands at the same speed over the course of the last decade.

Each tweet is a window into the context of our times, and the mind of Donald J. Trump. In chronological order, they take us on a journey into some of the most important stories, events and issues of the modern world – an election result that polarized a country, the first ever meeting of a US president with a North Korean leader, immigration, and climate change.

HARRY & MEGHAN: AN AFRICAN JOURNEY

NEW

1 x 60'

Producer: ITN Productions

Commissioning Channel: ITV

When the Duke and Duchess of Sussex took baby son Archie on their recent Royal tour of southern Africa, ITV News at Ten anchor Tom Bradby was with them throughout. Bradby, who has made two other films with Harry in Africa, gained exclusive and intimate access to the world's most talked-about couple.

He speaks to them about the causes and issues they care most about and explores some of the pressures and challenges they face living as a young family in the glare of the world's media.

Harry & Meghan: An African Journey provides a vivid insight into how they see their roles as modern Royals on the international stage and how they balance their public duties with their private family life.

HARRY & MEGHAN: A ROYAL CRISIS?

NEW

1 x 60'

Producer: ITN Productions

Commissioning Channel: ITV

The love story of Meghan Markle & Prince Harry had, from the start, been one that promised to reshape and modernise the British monarchy.

The cracks began to show as their unease and unhappiness in their roles became increasingly evident, culminating in a no holds barred interview for ITV with Tom Bradby last autumn.

But as the couple announced their plan to withdraw from their lives as senior royals in an unprecedented and shocking statement that blindsided the family and sent the media into meltdown, ITV asks why this has happened and what's next for the couple and their ambition to become new 'progressive', financially independent, private citizens and how this sits with their place in the royal family.

Royal Editor Chris Ship looks back at their love story, the prescient Bradby documentary that foreshadowed this decision and the extent of the repercussions for the House of Windsor in the months to come.

OCEAN AUTOPSY

NEW

1 x 90' or 2 x 60'

Producer: Pioneer Productions

Commissioning Channel: BBC Four

In unprecedented ways humans are changing our seas and the life within. Ocean Autopsy takes us on a journey to carry out an 'autopsy' on the ocean itself, where leading oceanographer Dr Helen Czerski, along with zoologist Dr George McGavin, will reveal the startling changes it's undergoing.

Two thirds of our planet is covered in water split into five distinct oceans, but in reality, they are part of one huge global water system. This system has been instrumental in shaping our destiny for millions of years. But now, in the 21st century, it's humankind that is shaping the destiny of our oceans. The ocean bed, currents, marine life, even the water itself is transformed by what humans are putting into our oceans.

Throughout the film, Helen and George will look at the water's toxicity due to industrial chemicals and will investigate a plague of microplastics saturating the water. They'll discover how this human-wrought change is in turn impacting our own health, and they'll perform an autopsy on a porpoise to witness the devastating impact these changes are having on marine life at the top of the food chain.

But all is not lost. Along the way Helen and George follow some surprising signs of hope, including re-wilded salt marshes, flooded to counter rising seas, and biodiversity hotspots at the base of wind farms. Both these enterprises show humanity working with nature and point towards a way forward for securing the health of our oceans.

POMPEII: AFTER THE ERUPTION

1 x 90' or 1 x 60'

Producer: Voltage TV

Commissioning Channel: Channel 5

Last year Channel 5 was granted exclusive access to the ancient city of Pompeii to uncover new evidence about its dramatic demise in 79AD. This year archaeologist Raksha Dave returns, this time with historian Dan Snow, because the destruction of Pompeii is only part of the story.

The volcano also wiped out the nearby town of Herculaneum and the glamorous seaside villas of some of the Roman empire's richest residents, devastating an area of 50 square miles. And whereas this destruction is where most accounts finish, it's where ours begins.

This is the untold story of the aftermath of the eruption, from the immediate reaction of the Roman Empire to residents returning to gather much missed personal belongings. The sites around Pompeii also offer up thousands of secrets about Roman life, from 18th century archaeologists discovering the chilling remnants of bodies to 21st century archaeologists re-evaluating the month of the eruption.

Across this eye-opening special, Dan and Raksha will piece together the definitive account of what happened in the weeks, years and centuries after the disaster – revealing how the eruption transformed this sleepy section of coast into the most famous archaeological site on the planet.

1 x 60'

Producer: Middlechild Productions

Commissioning Channel: Channel 5

As a nation of pet lovers it's hard to see our beloved furry friends as anything other than perfect companions who adore us unconditionally. But there's increasing evidence to suggest that our pets may secretly be plotting our downfall.

This lighthearted look into the undiscovered side of pets reveals evidence to suggest that our favourite fluffy sidekicks really do have it in for us. After all, we drag them round on leads, make them visit the vet, put them in kennels and put them in the bath whether they like it or not. It's not a surprise that sooner or later they'll want to seek their revenge. Whether it's turning the tables and pulling us on leads instead of the other way round, or strategically placing themselves as the perfect trip hazard, it's becoming increasingly evident that our pets are a shady bunch of trouble makers.

In the documentary we meet the pets and their owners to establish whether our beloved pets are feline felons and criminal canines, from Boss the dog, a repeat offender from West Yorkshire who keeps dragging his owners off their feet and into the mud, to Caesar, the crafty canine from New Jersey who caused his human companion to faceplant down a flight of steps to Charlie, Cowboy and Scooter from New Mexico and three puppy perpetrators who stand accused of shooting their owner while out hunting.

FUTURE WARFARE

NEW

4 x 60'

Producer: Wildbear Entertainment

War never stops evolving.

The battlefields of the First World War were vastly different to the battlefields of today. The sprawls of trenches and tangles of barbed wire have given way to highly mobile and ever-changing theatres of battle. Yet the future of warfare still lies beyond these battlefields to the uncharted reaches of outer space, and even to the digital realm...

Technological advancements in the military have paved the way for changes in our day-to-day lives; military invention is behind the Internet, GPS and even microwave ovens and duct tape. But warfare takes technology further – from self-targeting smart guns to antimatter weaponry, lethal autonomous robots to the real-world threats of cyberspace. Understanding this military future is essential for understanding the potential future of all of our lives.

Across four episodes we look at the game changers in military capabilities that are resetting the character of current and future warfare, which will thrust our world into a new era. Using historical context to set up the precursors to current military technological trends, expert interviews, file footage and cutting-edge CGI with original filming, the series will reveal the future of warfare.

THE ARCHITECTURE THE RAILWAYS BUILT

10 x 60'

Producer: Brown Bob Productions

Commissioning Channel: Yesterday (UKTV)

Throughout the 19th Century, railway stations were built as majestic palaces, reflecting the huge amount of money to be made from rail passengers.

Iconic bridges and viaducts were built to span valleys. New engineering had to be invented, built with state of the art materials. Railway architecture was the first thing a traveller would see when they arrived in a new city, so Europe's capitals and its new industrial metropolises all vied to create impressive symbols of national wealth.

The Architecture the Railways Built showcases stunning railway architecture from across the UK and Europe. From grand stations to signal boxes, viaducts to railway villages and everything in between. Presenter and railway aficionado, Tim Dunn uncovers the stories behind the structures, meets people with a passion for design, and gets hands on with the architecture himself, whenever he can.

BRIDGING THE EXPANSE

6 x 60'

Producer: Wild Bear Entertainment

Bridging The Expanse celebrates the world's most iconic bridges, exploring feats of engineering that have endured social and cultural legacies.

The bridge encapsulates humanity's will to conquer the elements. From the first log thrust over a divide, bridges have united us, facilitated our need to explore and proven our mastery of physics.

Now, leviathan steel structures cross open seas and mountainous chasms, standing defiantly all over the world. A brilliant testament to what it means to be human, bridges are a captivating mix of engineering prowess, artistic precision and architectural ambition, radiating out from every beam, truss and arch.

Bridges also go beyond the physical. Where a bridge spans, stories are endless and are often as awe-inspiring as the bridge itself – stories of loss and triumph, war and peace, power and empire... even love and heartache. As meeting points for lovers and armies, saints and sinners, bridges have provided a picturesque backdrop to some of humanity's most iconic historical moments.

Bridging The Expanse pays tribute to our many bridges, focusing on a particular type in each episode. Through interviews with experts, a mixture of restored archival and new footage, and explanatory 3D animation, it illustrates the technical achievements of erecting the world's most fascinating bridges and the fascinating social and cultural legacy that goes with them.

HANDMADE IN AFRICA

NEW

3 x 30'

Producer: ClearStory

Commissioning Channel: BBC Four

This documentary series offers three in-depth portraits of contemporary African creative life, from three very different parts of the continent. In Senegal, a kora musical instrument is crafted from scratch; in Ethiopia, the Dorze weave a traditional house; and in Kenya, a Maasai bead-maker crafts a wedding necklace.

Each episode sees the creation of a single, traditional artwork or object from scratch. The episode then ends with the object being displayed, worn, or used. But this linear structure is simply a medium to explore what the object really means, and its broader cultural context.

We discover the artist's biography, their inspirations and calling. We come to understand the materials they use, how, and where they are sourced, and explore what these objects mean to the communities these artists live in.

Handmade in Africa prioritises intimate access, celebrating the beautiful detail within each object, the techniques employed by each craftsman, and draws viewers into the life of one primary artist (or one small family group) while also giving a sense of the community and village life going on around them.

These are fly-on-the-wall films in the truest sense, and allow the audience to gain a unique perspective not just on the artworks and objects, but on the lives of the people who make them.

Automotive restorers Henry Cole and Sam Lovegrove set out to locate, buy, restore and ultimately use an iconic vehicle for a challenge that it was originally designed for.

From a WWII sidecar outfit to a 1946 American pick up, a vintage race transporter, a 70's chopper, a 50's tractor, and a 1928 boat tail Wolseley racer, the selection of vehicles is certainly eclectic. Each episode starts with a good rummage around a shed or two to find the chosen vehicle. Along the way, Henry and Sam cannot help but pick up other items to restore too. The boys then embark on the restoration, taking time to reflect on the history of the vehicle while immersing themselves in the banter and eccentricity that are expected from these two veterans of vintage vehicle restoration.

The challenges include traversing the undulating hills of Wales on a Russian Military sidecar, thrashing round the banking at the legendary Brooklands race track in their 1928 Wolseley racer, or riding the American dream on their 70's chopper.

Each episode of Find It, Fix It, Drive It is self-contained, offering an in depth, often satirical journey into the fascinating world of discovering, restoring and most importantly using some of our iconic vintage vehicles.

Come rain or shine, fog, hurricane or snow, every weekend in the UK the most enthusiastic autojumblers from all over the World pitch their plots and trade their automotive goods trying to make a quick buck. Some have even been known to sell the van they turned up in if the price is right.

Lifelong friends, Henry and Sam, scour the country's sheds, auctions, reclamation yards and mate's houses, buying up the very best automotive deals on offer. The aim will be to make as much money as possible when they sell their finds at the autojumble at the end of the episode.

The big question is whether they will make any money. Can Henry and Sam compete or will they blow all their profit on motorbikes, cars, tin signs, petrol pumps and anything else mechanical they lay their eyes on that they actually want to keep for themselves...

Format also available

4 x 60'

Producer: Mentorn Media

Commissioning Channel: Channel 5

This new four part series goes deep inside Lincolnshire's busiest police station – West Parade.

The series follows the different layers of the force as in-the-moment decisions are made and the police react. The station is home to over 180 officers who look after a city of nearly two hundred thousand but they are the country's least funded force.

Inside the Police Force goes behind the station doors, from the custody suite and the over stretched response officers to the control room and the investigation teams.

Producer: Magical Elves and Wolf Reality

From Executive Producer Dick Wolf, this crime reality investigation series follows former prosecutor Kelly Siegler and a team of crime scene investigators and detectives as they crack cold cases.

Kelly Siegler, a Texas prosecutor for over 20 years who has successfully tried over 68 murder cases, and her team of crime scene investigators and trained detectives, put their vast knowledge and experience to work, helping local law-enforcement officers and families of violent-crime victims get to the truth.

With a fresh set of eyes on old evidence, superior interrogation skills and access to advanced DNA technology and lab testing, Siegler is determined to bring about a legal and emotional resolution.

Taking on a different unsolved crime each episode, they carefully re-examine evidence, question suspects and witnesses, and chase down leads in order to solve cases that would have otherwise remained cold indefinitely.
